Compostable and Biodegradable Food Packaging

Packaging decisions today are dominated by how they will impact on the environment. Sovereign, who have always been leading suppliers of eco friendly products, can explain which materials are best for recycling and which are locally compostable and recyclable. Thanks to new technology Sovereign can now supply coffee cups and other hot food packaging with very effective water based linings. Instead of costly and often ineffective collection and shipping of plastic lined cups (be they plant (PLA) or petro (PE) sourced) these new cups can be recycled in all local standard recycling streams and are also “home compostable”. Even if they end up in landfill, as the majority of cups currently do, they will totally and naturally decompose within 4-6 weeks leaving no residues.

We have also added upmarket plates, bowls and platters made from organic palm leaves to our range this year - with nothing added but heat and water. And we can offer 2 qualities of wooden cutlery to suit all catering requirements and budgets.

GoodLife®

The GoodLife® range of biodegradable and compostable clamshells, plates and bowls not only have the strength of plastic disposables but also offer total environmental credibility. That is because all GoodLife® products are made from otherwise unwanted organic material - such as the outer fibrous waste from sugar cane and cornstarch. All this waste material is then carefully and efficiently transformed by GoodLife® operatives into useful 100% biodegradable & compostable packaging for markets worldwide. Choose from one of the world's biggest ranges of biodegradable & compostable food service products. You will be pleased not only with the integrity of the products' origins but the friendly and efficient service and advice you will receive.

GOODLIFE® BIO CUP

100% Plastic Free

Brand new to the market are the Goodlife® plastic free Bio Cups. Up until now the only alternative to polyethylene (PE) lined cups has been Polylactic Acid (PLA) - a plastic made from plants - but this is not an environmentally sustainable solution as these cup require specialist industrial composting. Industrial composting is not very eco-friendly as it requires very high temperatures for prolonged periods of time to break down the PLA. Hence PLA lined coffee cups, or indeed other packaging made from or with PLA, do not provide a viable solution for Coffee and Food To Go operators who wish to elevate their environmental credentials.

The Goodlife® Bio Cups represent a huge and exciting breakthrough. They are home compostable and will fully decompose on a standard compost heap - or in landfill - in 4 to 6 weeks leaving no residues. More significantly these can be recycled locally in the standard paper and board recycling systems which are available and easily accessible in all areas of the UK.

After 4 weeks home composting
